Wilson's Black African Muskmelon—
A hybrid cross of several varieties, producing the most luscious, thick, green netted melon that we have ever seen. It is oval shaped, has dark green netted rind and sells at a high price even when market is glutted with other melons. Make money by producing the most luscious, thick, green netted rind and sell at a high price. It is oval shaped, has dark green netted rind and sells at a high price when there is no market for other melons. Include these seeds in your orders. We guarantee them to be true to name and of high germination.

Wilson's White Seed Tom Watson Watermelons—
A very large, dark green netted, thin, round rind melon. Ships well; very sweet in flavor with white seed. A cross of Tom Watson and Irish Gray, combining the good qualities of both. A long melon, uniform in size and shape. A heavy bearer and great drought resister. Will make the grower big money. Pkt 25c, oz 60c, 1/2 lb $1.00, 1 lb $5.00.

Wilson's Black Muskmelon—
It is oval shaped with a very dark green netted rind and thick, red meat, one of the most highly sweet, delicious flavor—melting in your mouth. Will sell at a high price when there is no market for other melons. It is a good keeper and will lay for days in the patch after being ripe before it gets soft. We believe you could ship this melon from New York to San Francisco and back again to New York without ice and it would still be in good condition. There cannot be too much said in favor of this melon. The average melon weighs between 3 1/2 to 4 pounds each. Packet 20c, oz 75c, 1/2 lb $1.50, 1 lb $6.00.

Wilson's Golden Oval Muskmelon—
Named for its beautiful oval shape and cream colored rind with thick, golden colored flesh, which is delicious in flavor. Very solid and thick. Is a good keeper and a wonderful market melon. Slightly larger than Rocky Ford. A cross between Solomon Giant and Rocky Ford. Include a package in your order. Pkt, $1.

G. H. WILSON SEED CO., Downs, Kansas
Following is a list of new varities being developed by us. They are remarkable in the pliable state they adopt themselves very readily to new soils and climates, and those marked early will ripen far north as melons are grown. Be sure to try some of them. We specialize in developing new varities of good quality earliness and good keeping qualities, Wilson's Black, Black African and Golden Oval sold for 50 cents a dozen more money this year than any other varities and we could not supply the demand. There was still some variation in them this season, but they all sold readily. We gave them such rigid selection this season we can scarcely believe there can be much variation in the future. You will find description and prices of these melons on opposite page.

We are creating by hand pollination many new crosses, to secure sweeter better varities with better keeping qualities, which will arrive at the markets of the world in better condition, therefore selling at higher prices, giving the grower bigger profits for his labors.
